fore the Legal Tribunals—News from the Eastern Departments—Ridiculous
Charges against a British Consul

tion. The Cinco Villas masters are in the very bad condition. The cholera and typhoid epidemics are spreading havoc among the troops, the well-disciplined troops, and the irregulars. The situation over the country are more unpleasant than ever. Since the news of the execution of Casanova large numbers of those who had represented themselves were returning to the country, mistrusting the good faith of the government. Operations in the Camaguey have almost entirely ceased, owing to sickness among the troops. As Casanova as ninety had been sent to hospital during the last week.

Don Francisco Montoya y Rovillara, nominated prosecuting officer for the purpose, cites a large number of witnesses, including the Cuban junta, to appear before the government of Cuba and the Cuban junta, to appear before the Cuban junta, to appear before the Cuban junta.

Deaths from influenza to the 24th report 10,000, and the number of burials 10,000. The epidemic has not yet taken place, not important in their results. The Impartialist claims that two notices of the death of the Impartialist have been confirmed, and further that Modesto Diaz and staff were surrounded in a swamp, and it was thought they could not escape. In San Francisco, Dr. Ramon Barrios y Gonzalez was on trial for disloyalty.

Don Ricardo de Guzman, commandant of infantry and superintendent of railroad construction, died in Mexico.

In the European Mail, published in London on the 10th of May, is a statement that when the English royal yacht arrived at Havana, the British consul at previous times the boxes containing the letters were seized, taken to the palace, and all the correspondence sent to the British Consul at Madrid. Further, that these contained a large number of documents showing that he was the agent of the Cuban insurgents, and that he had taken advantage of his position to send the British Consul at Madrid the arguments and their friends abroad, for which the Consul was arrested and placed in secret confinement. The British Consul at Madrid was released. The British Consul has been in the diplomatic service of his government for many years, and has been too careful to avoid any impropriety, and has been too loyal to the government to be guilty of the improprieties charged. His relations with the authorities here are of the most agreeable character.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Personal Notes.

Chief Justice Church is in town in improved health.

President Grant will be the guest of Senator Cameron in Pennsylvania next week.

An exchange says a young man who left Louisville, Ky., a few years ago, without a cent, returned from California last week with $6,000 per month, all made by sheep raising. Bah!

The Providence Herald asserts that if the Fenian General Donnelly isn't a native of Providence he has a "necny" there at any rate.

A young lady out West who had "travelled some" visited New York, and on her return home said she had heard Artemus Ward preach. She had mistaken Henry Ward Beecher for the late lamented showman. How travel does improve some intellects!

Captain James W. Goodrich, for many years an active and prominent shipmaster from the port of New York, died in New Haven on the 1st inst. He assisted in bringing the Atlantic cable on board the Niagara. He was buried with Masonic honors.

It is stated that George Roberts has sold the Westmoreland Hotel, with the intention of embarking once more in newspaper enterprise. He is one of the oldest living newspaper men in the United States. He founded the Albany Transcript in 1836, the Boston Daily Times about the same time, the Boston Yankee Notion (the first of the Boston weekly sensation papers), the enormous Constellation (published in this city), was the founder of the American Club House, in Union square, and the architect and builder of the popular Westminster Hotel, in Irving place. He has been a very enterprising man during his extended career.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

The Result of Racing on Railroads—A Man

Killed on the Flushing Railroad Yesterday.
It is a melancholy fact that recently no less than six persons have been killed on the Flushing Railroad, the number being completed by the killing of a man yesterday morning at Winfield. The Flush-and Long Island Railroad trains left Hunter's point at half-past ten, arriving at Winfield at a quarter to eleven o'clock. Both roads lie contiguous and run parallel for about four miles. They are given to racing when upon this portion of the road, and this mistake can be attributed these melancholy catastrophes. Yesterday morning the engineers tested the merits of their locomotives, and the Flashing proved the swiftest. When passing Winfield a small passenger train was passing in the same direction of the Long Island company, but he was struck by the engine and prevented a mass of blood and lacerated flesh. The body was broken, the head severed, and his body covered with scars and lacerations. The Flashing locomotive was running at such a desperate rate that it took four minutes to stop the passenger train. The body of the man who was killed remains here about a week, identified. He is approximately twenty-four years of age, stout and of moderate height. He had with him a leather satchel, containing a few books from the firm Griffin, Gibbs & Carpenter, of 46 Franklin street, this city, for whom he is supposed to have been a travelling agent. Coroner Seibert will have an inquest on the body. The people of this locality complain bitterly of the treatment they receive at the hands of these companies, and some action is to be taken immediately by them to remedy the state of affairs.

RURAL SHUFFLENS.—Henry Day, an old farmer in Tioga county, N. Y., committed suicide by hanging and shooting himself; and Francis Lope, an old farmer in the same county, committed suicide by hanging in the same place, shuffling. Hangings is evidently not popular in Iowa's game state. "Liberty Cooperator," humorously says the paper, "Liberty Cooperator."
